

Celebrating Mother's Day under Quarantine

Host a Zoom party

Plan ahead of time with the rest of the family and surprise Mom with an evening catching up.

Bake something with [or for] your Mom

If your mom is always the one cooking around the house offer to take charge for the day, or if she's one that enjoys the kitchen baking together is a great bonding experience.

Have an at home spa day

Self care is for anyone, especially mom. Stock up on face masks, bath salts and your mom's skincare favorites for a day filled with relaxation.

Spend time outdoors

This depends on where you live but if your city has opened parks or beaches take advantage and celebrate outside (following social distancing rules). If you have your own yard set up a picnic and a nice ambience for mom.

Build your own bouquets

What better way to bring a sense of Spring into your home than with a fresh bouquet of flowers. Buy different flowers at your grocery store and make it into a daytime activity for your whole family.
